

Two smooth balls of exactly the same size, one made of wood and the other of iron, are dropped from a high building to the ground below. The ball to encounter the greater force of air resistance on the way down is the

- a) wooden ball
- b) iron ball
- c) ... both the same

