

The lens projects an image of the white candle on the wall. How will the image differ if the top half of the lens is covered with a red filter and the bottom half with a green filter?

